Vancouver, British Columbia, July 11, 2024 - Red Lake Gold Inc. (CSE: RGLD) ("Red Lake Gold" or the "Corporation") is pleased to announce the incoming appointment of Mr. Jordan Harris as VP, Exploration of Red Lake Gold, with the position commencing on Monday, July 15, 2024.

"Red Lake Gold is excited to welcome our incoming Vice-President of Exploration, Jordan Harris, to the team. As we await laboratory results from our recent field program on a prioritized area at our Whirlwind Jack Gold Project, we are continuing to build-out and strengthen our senior leadership in advance of our expectation of more exploration activity ahead," noted Ryan Kalt, Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation.

Mr. Harris is a geoscientist with expertise in spatial analysis of mineral deposits, including their exploration settings. At Red Lake Gold, he will be involved in the planning and oversight of the Corporation's forward-moving exploration programs, as well as assisting with the assemblage of technical information and the preparation of presentation materials for shareholders and project constituents.

Recent geological work has concentrated on gold and critical mineral exploration in Canada. With experience in multiple gold districts including the Shabandowan and Beardmore-Geraldton greenstone belts of Northwest Ontario, the Abitibi greenstone belts of Quebec/Ontario, the James Bay region of Quebec, the Tintina gold belt in Yukon and the Walker Lake Trend in Nevada, he brings to Red Lake Gold a robust understanding of depositional settings related to precious metals, and particularly gold.

Mr. Harris has managed multiple exploration programs and is expected to enhance the Corporation's exploration activities with a comprehensive set of geological and management skills. He holds a Bachelor of Science (Geology)(Honours) from the University of Ottawa and is published in the Journal of Geochemical Exploration.
